SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1950

VOL. 59 - NO. 44

Observations...

By the Editor

We are going to have an election next Tuesday. Of course not many folks appear to be interested, because no local candidates appear on the ticket. Bill Colmer has a late entry in the race against him in the person of "Peach Tree" Harper, the perennial candidate for some office. Harper hails from Hattiesburg. This is an important election, however. We must vote on three constitutional amendments. The most important of these amendments is the one increasing the number of Supreme Court judges from 6 to 9. This amendment should be voted for and passed. The crowded condition of the Supreme Court docket should urge all Mississippians to come out and vote for this amendment. It takes nearly a year to get a decision from the court under the present conditions. This condition should not exist. The last legislature realizing the urgency of the situation and not to have to wait for the decision of the constitutional amendment provided for the appointment of three commissioners to assist the judges in their hearings. In order to pass an amendment to the constitution, it is necessary that a majority of all persons voting cast their vote for the amendment. Show your interest in public affairs by voting next Tuesday, and may we urge you to vote for the Supreme Court amendment.

Just a little suggestion to the Board of Supervisors: The crowded condition of the vault in the Clerk of Courts office should be relieved. It is getting to the point where one can hardly turn around in it. This is the work spot for all those interested in the County records, and certainly some facilities should be made available for this and for storing the records. There just isn't any more room left to either work or store. Plans were drawn some years back and are probably still available. Think about it and see what you can do.

Our good friend, Mr. Joseph O. Mauffray has entered the select class of octogenarians. Just think - he celebrated his 80th birthday Tuesday, October 31. We have not had the opportunity to extend to him our personal congratulations, nor to ask him a few questions about his recipe for longevity, but we are going to take a chance and give what we think it is - "Jordan River and its tributaries". Many, many years ago Mr. Joe thought, but he fooled 'em all. He started fishing regularly and taking things in stride and he is still at it. Looks 20 years younger than he is. Congratulations "Cher Ami" and hope you will live to move into the most select class - the "centenarians".

Halloween, of course, is the time for the coming of the spooks, and the youngsters love to get out and have a good time. All the folks are happy to see them carousing about, and many of the grownups aid them in their innocent pleasure; but it is pretty bad when some of the youngsters bring disrepute upon many an innocent youngster. Some kids just can't help being mean and ugly and feel that the only way to have fun is to destroy other folks property. This should not be. One of the most outrageous happenings this Halloween was the tearing down of the tent, erected by the Methodists at Waveland for their revival. The poles were removed and the tent allowed to collapse. This action ruined the lighting system which had been installed. This is not fun - it borders on the sacrilegious, and those responsible for such action should be rooted out and punished. Their action only makes it hard on other youngsters.

We want to congratulate the Mayor and Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis for the splendid work they are doing in the fiscal affairs of the City. In less than two years the bonded indebtedness of the City has been reduced, $84,000.00 and debts of the old administration totaling $56,119.82 have been paid. The city is operating on a cash basis for the first time in many years. Of course, we can hear some few complaints about the condition of the streets, etc., but it appears that this will be taken care of. These men have done a good job. They have not swayed in their desire to reestablish confidence in your local government in order to have improvements it is necessary to have funds to do the work with, and in order to have funds it is necessary to practice economy and pay off many obligations to reestablish the city's credit. From here out, it should be much easier and improvements should be on the way.

Mrs. M. Phillips, 48, Dies Here On Thursday

Mrs. Wena Caroline Phillips, 48, died at her residence, 210 South Beach, at 3:05 a. m. Thursday, November 2.

Mrs. Phillips was the daughter of the late Amanda Von Goehren and Walter Joseph Gex, Sr. She was the wife of Milton A. Phillips, Sr., of Bay St. Louis.

Funeral Services will be held this morning, Friday, November 3, at 9:45 from her late residence, with religious services at 10:00 a. m. in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Interment will be in Cedar Rest cemetery.

The deceased is survived by her husband; two sons, Walter James and Milton A. Jr.; two sisters, Ethel H. and Stella Gex; two brothers, Walter J. Gex, Jr., and Lucien M. Gex; and three grandchildren, Lars O. Carey James and Lisbet Ann Phillips.

Urge Voters To Go To Polls On Tuesday

All qualified voters of Hancock County are urged to go to the polls and vote Tuesday, November 7, by the League of Women Voters. The League, which does not endorse any particular candidate, makes its plea in the interest of better government.

To be a qualified voter for this election, a person must have registered at the court house at least four months previous to the election. The league asks everyone to check his or her registration papers, and to know the proper polling places.

The five beats are as follows: beat one Ansley, Pearlinton, Logtown and Gainesville; beat two Aaron Academy and Flat Top; beat three Standard, Dedeaux and Crane Creek; beat four Caesar, Catahoula, Kiln, Fenton, and Rocky Hill; beat five Clermont Harbor, Waveland, Edwardsville, Central School, South Bay, City Hall, Court House and North Bay.

William M. Colmer, the incumbent, and former State Senator Frank H. Harper of Hattiesburg are the two candidates for representative. There are also three proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on. A review of these amendments will be given to anyone calling 506 by the L. W. V.

All Saints Day Observed

The residents of Bay St. Louis paid homage to their departed relatives and friends on All Saints Day. The cemeteries about town were beautifully decorated with floral offerings. Chrysanthemums were placed on almost every tomb. Pictured here are just two of the many outstanding graves in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Mississippi's General Election Day Slated For Tuesday, November 7

City Levy Lowered to 45 Mills; Overall Improvements Scheduled

The tax levy for the City of Bay St. Louis adopted by the Mayor and Commission Council at their meeting, October 16, 1950, totals 45 mills, to be divided among the various funds as follows: General and General Improvement Fund 15 mills; School Fund 15 mills; Sinking Bond Fund 10 mills; Water Works Fund (Emergency) 3 mills; Parks and Playground Fund 2 mills. The levy of 45 mills represents a reduction of one mill in the total tax levy for the City since the present administration assumed office, January 3, 1949.

Adoption of Amendment to Increase Number Of Supreme Judges Will Solve Problems

Fire Destroys Spradley's Garage

Pass Christian. — Spradley Motors at 213 Davis avenue was completely destroyed by fire Thursday, November 2, around 3:00 a. m.

Robert Saucier, who lives next door, was the first one to see the fire; he ran across the street to a telephone at the Wainbgsam Bakery and sent in the alarm.

Within five minutes, the Pass Christian Fire engine arrived, and firemen were fighting the terrific blaze. They succeeded in keeping the gas tanks from exploding. The Gulfport and Bay St. Louis fire departments arrived about a half hour after the blaze started and helped combat the flames.

Losses, H. E. Spradley, owner stated, included new automobiles, cars to be repaired and all tools and equipment; all were totally destroyed.

NCCW TO MEET

The next meeting of the Bay St. Louis District of the National Council of Catholic Women will be held at St. John's School in Gulfport Wednesday, November 8, at 3 p. m. All Catholic ladies are cordially invited to attend.

If Mississippi adopts the Constitutional amendment increasing the number of Supreme Court Judges to nine at the election to be held November 7, Mississippi will have solved the problem of increased appellate litigation which has arisen during the last 34 years at a cost of less than 15¢ of what it has cost the state of Louisiana to solve their similar problems, according to a statement released today by Gibson B. Witherspoon, President of the Mississippi State Bar. Thirty-four years ago the number of Supreme Court Judges was fixed in Mississippi at six because of the press of appellate work, and no increase in membership has occurred since that date.

The proposed constitutional amendment to increase the number of Supreme Court Judges from six to nine has the unanimous approval and support of all the attorneys of this community.

In a statement signed by Evelyn H. Conner, Lucien M. Gex, Walter J. Gex, Robert L. Genin, Dan M. Russell, Jr., Edward L. Jones, Cornelius J. Ladner, Sam L. Favre, Jr., and Walter J. Phillips, the attorneys gave their approval to the measure.

The statement pointed out that increases in litigation in recent years have been so great that the present six judges are burdened with more work than they can handle efficiently. The court has gradually fallen behind and has now a full year's work ahead of it.

The attorneys also added that the judicial process will be speeded; there will be no increase in court cost to the state. If the amendment passes, the present Supreme Court Commissioners will become or be succeeded by regular judges, subject to election by a vote of the people. This would give the people the right to select all of their judges instead of only six of them.

POPPY DAY SET FOR NOV. 11th

The American Legion Auxiliary will sponsor their Poppy Day Sale on Armistice Day, Saturday, November 11.

The Auxiliary's poppy program begins in the summer or fall when the manufacture of poppies is started by disabled veterans in government hospitals and in special convalescent workshops maintained by the Auxiliary.

The program comes to a climax in May when, on the Saturday before Memorial Day in most communities, the sale of the poppies takes place on the streets.

The sale was postponed by the local Auxiliary last year.

The many hundreds of disabled veterans are paid for the flowers they shape, and if not too badly disabled, they can earn a fair day's wage without exerting themselves to a harmful extent. For many it is the only possibility of earning money during the year.

The material for the poppies is supplied to the disabled workers by the Auxiliary; their wages are paid by the Auxiliary weekly throughout the manufacturing period. The distribution of the flowers and the promotion of the sale is handled by the ladies, all in advance of any revenue from the sale of poppies.

The money made from the sale goes into direct relief for the disabled men and the dependents of the dead and disabled. The bulk of the poppy funds remains in the communities where they are raised, being expended by the local Legion posts and auxiliary units in relief work in the communities throughout the year. No price is fixed for the poppy. The amount dropped into the box of the poppy seller is a donation to relieve the suffering caused by the war, Mrs. W. D. Bourgeois, chairman, stated.

PROPOSE TO HARDFACE STREETS

It is also proposed to spend approximately $30,000.00 for hard-surfacing city streets during the coming year. No additional levy has been imposed for this purpose. The council has presently $19,749.80 for this purpose set aside by a decree of the Chancery Court in the suit of the State Auditor and $10,250.20 received from the State of Mississippi under legislation known as the "Pork Barrel Fund" which was paid to the municipalities of the State.

REDUCE CITY'S BONDED INDEBTEDNESS

Since their induction into office the present administration has reduced the Bonded Indebtedness of the City from $221,200.00 to $157,000.00, and in addition thereto, they have paid off $56,119.82 of legal obligations incurred by the former administration and which remained unpaid on January 3rd, 1949. At this time the city is operating on a cash basis for the first time in several years.

Mrs. Tudury To Represent Area At March of Dimes Pre-Campaign Meet

Mrs. Theo Tudury of Bay St. Louis will represent this area at the three-state March of Dimes pre-campaign planning meeting at the Robert E. Lee Hotel in Jackson, Monday, November 6, according to an announcement by Dr. Felix J. Underwood, State March of Dimes Chairman. Volunteer March of Dimes workers from Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee will attend the meeting to plan the 1951 fund raising campaign for the county chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The nationwide campaign will take place January 15-31.

"Every county in the state is expected to be represented at the Jackson meeting," Dr. Underwood said. "A widespread polo outbreak has struck in 70 Mississippi

Mrs. McDonald Addresses Rotary

S J A Mothers to Meet

St. Joseph Academy Parents Club will meet Tuesday, November 7, in the school den at 3:15 p. m. Co-hostesses for the month are Mrs. J. S. Blanchard and Mrs. E. P. Larroux.

In her introductory remarks Mrs. McDonald said that she had been very much interested in international relations for a long time. "Not in the vast complex way, but from an angle of good citizenship, beginning where we are and with the same qualities - the making of good citizenship when the opportunity comes."

Mrs. McDonald said that she attended the International Relations Conference in New York because she was chairman of the International Relations Committee for the Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers. She said how much it would mean for any of those hearing her to have had the same opportunity she Tuesday, November 7, is general election day in Mississippi. Qualified voters will elect representatives to Congress, chancellors and circuit judges. There will also be an opportunity to vote on three proposed constitutional amendments.

The candidates for Congressmen from the sixth district are William M. Colmer, the incumbent, and Frank H. Harper, D. M. Russell, Sr., is running for Chancellor unopposed. Running for Circuit Court Judge is L. C. Corban who is also without opposition.

REA Will Meet Tomorrow

Cattle Vaccination To Begin Shortly

A county-wide calf vaccination campaign will begin shortly to eradicate bangs disease, in Hancock County, County Agent Howard F. Simmons announced. Last July the Hancock County Board of Supervisors signed an agreement to match State and Federal funds for this purpose.

The program has been delayed to the present time due to insufficient help. A veterinarian, Dr. Lizana, has been employed and the program is ready to get underway. It is the aim of this campaign to vaccinate all female calves between the ages of four and eight months.

All cattle owners are asked to advise the County Agent as to the number of animals that they own within this age limit. This is necessary so that a schedule can be planned for the vaccinations. Cattle owners will be advised of the day when the veterinarian will be at their farms, Simmons said.

S. J. A. Alumnae To Meet Nov. 12th

St. Joseph Academy Alumnae will meet here on Sunday, November 12. Invitations have been sent to all out of town Alumnae. This meeting has been anticipated for months, and it is the hope of the association that many out of town and local graduates will be able to attend.

The Bay St. Louis Alumnae will be in charge of the luncheon which will be served at noon in the gymnasium. There will be a short business session after lunch and election of officers for the coming year will be held.

Tomorrow is REA Day in Bay St. Louis

Members of the Coast Electric Co-op from Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River Counties are already pouring into town. Merchants are hard at work preparing for the expected crowd who will come to their stores to take advantage of REA DAY specials and appliance dealers are busy putting the finishing touches on their booths for the appliance exhibit at the Bay High School. The atmosphere is a mixed one. The many visitors that will come to town this weekend will be coming to have a good time and for serious business, too.

MEMBERS TO MEET

The Annual Members Meeting of Coast Electric Power Association will be held Saturday in conjunction with REA Day. The members of the association will elect board members for the next year. Besides the serious side of the program, there will be entertainment for all. The speaker of the day will be the nationally known wit, the Honorable James Arrington of Collins, Mississippi. Music and other entertainment will be interspersed throughout the day long program.

There will be many valuable prizes given away by Coast Electric to its members; appliance dealers will also award prizes to people registering at their booths. Coast Electric's new home will be formally dedicated at this meeting, and all members, as well as the general public, are invited to inspect the recently completed building. Recent visitors to the building from an REA regional meeting held in New Orleans described the new headquarters as one of the finest and best planned REA buildings in the country.

Theatre Prepares For Final Show

Final rehearsals are underway for the final attraction of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's 1950 season.

"The Great Big Doorstep," under the direction of C. D. Blair, will be presented November 9, 10 and 11 at the play house on Boardman avenue. The curtain time is 8:15 p. m.

This play, with an outstanding cast, promises a new high in the entertainment field in Bay St. Louis.

To Teach in Picayune

Rev. Father D. J. O'Hanlon, pastor of St. Charles Borromeo Church in Picayune, Mississippi, was the guest of Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. J. Gmelch during the week. Arrangements were made with Mother Mary of the Rosary for two Sisters of St. Joseph Academy, Bay St. Louis, to teach Catechism in Picayune each Saturday morning. This is the first time for sisters of a religious order to teach in Picayune.

On the ballot will be three proposed constitutional amendments. The first proposed amendment would give the wife of a minister the right to vote after a six month's established residence. This right is already granted to ministers by a previous amendment.

INCREASE IN SUPREME COURT JUDGES

Perhaps the most important proposed amendment is the one which would increase the number of supreme court judges from six to nine. The reason given for this amendment is that the present six judges are not capable of handling the vast volume of business that comes before the supreme court, and that the increased number of judges would appreciably speed up the judicial process. This amendment has wide spread support, especially from the legal profession.

SUCCESSION OF STATE AUDITOR

The last proposed amendment would allow the State Auditor to succeed himself. The constitution of 1890 prohibited the State Auditor from immediately succeeding himself for the reason that the collection of taxes was among his duties. Due to revisions in laws in recent years, this duty has been removed from the auditor.

MUST RECEIVE MAJORITY OF VOTES

The proposed constitutional amendments must receive a majority of all votes cast in the general election if they are to be adopted. Failure to vote for a constitutional amendment is considered the same as a vote against it.

The polls will open in all precincts at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. except in Bay St. Louis where the voting hours will be from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. The election managers in the various precincts will be as follows:

ANSLEY: Jules Lafrance, Charles Hammer, Gerald Luther and John Lafontaine, Peace and Returning Officer.

WHY VOTE?

Among the most controversial issues of all times are the weather and good government. In the case of the weather, no one ever does anything about it because they can't. There is no excuse for not doing anything about good government. We can do something about this. We can go to the polls and vote for the kind of government we want.

Throughout the nation elections will be held Tuesday. Our election here is a so-called "off year election"; there are no great issues at stake, or even controversial candidates in the race. This does not make this election unimportant. Every election is important, for it is only at election time that we have an opportunity to choose the kind of government we are going to get until the next election. It is necessary that we vote in Tuesday's election if it is only to keep in practice. Once the people become lax about voting, even in off year elections, our government will literally go to the dogs.

On the ballot Tuesday besides the candidates for Congressman, Chancellor, and Circuit Judge, will be three proposed constitutional amendments. It is the duty of every registered voter to make a careful study of the constitutional amendments to be voted upon. These amendments do not greatly alter the basis for our government, but nevertheless, they are important. Changes in our constitution are necessary at times, and we should be certain that any changes we do make are for the good of all, now and in the future.

The amendment to increase the number of supreme court judges is a definite improvement in our judicial system, and it should have the support of all voters. The amendment to allow a minister's wife to vote after six months' established residence should also pass since this right is already accorded a minister. Whether the State Auditor should be allowed to succeed himself is a matter of personal preference, and of no great importance since the state auditor no longer collects taxes.

We should remember that failure to vote on a proposed constitutional amendment is tantamount to voting against it, because such amendments must receive a majority of all votes cast in the election if they are to be adopted.

People who do not vote are a blot on our democratic system. They are doing as much to undermine our American system as the communists and other subversive groups. We in Mississippi have an added incentive for a 100% turn out at the polls. A large vote would combat the criticism often hurled at our state because of the small total vote usually cast in our so-called off year elections.

Participation in elections by everyone who is a qualified voter is the first step in getting better government. Citizens who don't vote are really casting a vote for minority rule. It is none of our business or any one else's business how you vote, but it is everyone's business that you do vote.

'Israel Revisited' Meaningful Answer to What Nation Is Like

By BILLY ROSE

Early in 1949, my missus and I took a trip around the world, and one of the countries we got to see was Israel. At the time, many of the streets of Tel Aviv, Haifa and Jerusalem were still criss-crossed with barbed wire, and the roads leading through the hills of Judea were littered with burned-out trucks. Nevertheless, thanks to an old Chevy and a pair of even older legs, I managed to see most of this tiny country, and when I left it a few weeks later I was pretty excited about what I had seen.

When we got back to New York, my old boss, Bernard M. Baruch, asked me to put my enthusiasm in my pocket and try to estimate Israel's chances of survival in this highly competitive world. I told him that one swing around the globe wasn't enough to make an economic expert out of a Broadway jumping-jack, but that I had come away from Israel with the general impression that the people were (a) intelligent, (b) tough as nails, and (c) prepared to work like all get-out to make a go of their new lives. "A business or a nation with those qualities usually gives a good account of itself," said Mr. Baruch.

SINCE MY VISIT, I've heard nothing to change my snap appraisal of Israel's chances. On the other hand, I've read darned little on the subject which could be classed as good objective reporting. Most of the favorable stuff was too favorable—obviously the work of men who were out to make as good a case for the new nation as possible. And as for the dissenters—well, as was to be expected, most of them sounded as if they were carrying a 2,000-year-old chip on their shoulders.

Recently a copy of a new book by Ralph McGill—"Israel Revisited"—published in Atlanta, Ga., last month by Tupper and Lane—showed up on my desk and I began to absorb it through it out of a sense of duty. But what started as duty quickly became compulsion, for McGill, editor of one of the South's most trustworthy papers, The Atlanta Constitution, had obviously gone to Israel with an open mind and crammed it with facts and figures before making it up.

I've met Mr. McGill once or twice, and before I was halfway through his book I found myself wondering how this soft-spoken and hard-headed gentleman from Georgia had come to write such an incisive and insightful commentary on the complicated events now shaping up at the far end of the Mediterranean.

I GOT TO THINKING about it and, as I hunch it, the answer is triple pronged: First, McGill is an Irishman, which means that while he has a lively sense of justice in general he has no ax to grind about Israel in particular. Second, he is first, foremost and fastidiously a newspaperman, availing himself of facts but plenty leary of special pleading propaganda. And third, he has a long record as a fighting Southern liberal, and once he's gotten his facts straight he's not one to bypass those touchy areas where even angels fear to tread.

When I finished reading "Israel Revisited" I was, of course, tickled to find that McGill's conclusions fitted with mine, but that's neither here nor there. The important thing is that, without pulling any punches, he has written a book about this controversial little country which one can read without prejudice or without suspecting the author of same.

Here, at last, is a meticulous and meaningful answer to the often-asked question, "What's Israel really like?"

High School Students Entertain Rotary

The Rotary Club enjoyed a program put on by the Eleventh grade students of the Pass Christian High School under the direction of their teacher, Miss Maxine Hilliard, at their Tuesday meeting at the Miramar hotel.

These young students presented youth's views to the group with the following speeches: Youth Views the City, by Royal Hagerty; Youth Views the State, by Patsy Mathis; Youth Views the Nation, by Martha Stewart; and Youth Views the World Community, by Linda Demetz.

Representing the school, Rotarians Larry Reid, of St. Joseph's Catholic School and Donald Manuel of Pass Christian High School, attended the meeting.

Visiting Rotarians were Sol Ingram, principal of Bay High, Joe Sharp and Joe Shandore, all of Bay St. Louis.

Other guests present at the dinner were Dr. J. Alex Borge, Edward French and R. K. Harris.

Mrs. H. L. Stewart has announced that here will be a joint meeting of Circles 1 and 2 of Trinity Church Guild at the parish House Monday, November 6. All members are urged to attend as final plans for the annual bazaar in December will be made.

A movie will be shown at 8:00, with refreshments following. The Hancock County school buses normally serving the school will bring parents to and from the meeting. All parents are invited to attend.

Free shrimp will be served at Mrs. W. M. Glass' shrimp boil Friday night at 7:00 at the Kiln Crossroads.

The score was 84-54 in favor of the Kiln girls' team over St. Joseph's School in Kiln's third basketball game of the season Monday night. The boys' team tied in a score of 41-41.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hart of Kiln had as their weekend visitors last week, Mr. and Mrs. Ray T. Arbour, Ernest and Tommy Arbour and Mrs. Lawrence Hart, all of Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

The Juniors and Seniors at Kiln school held their annual party last Thursday night. The luncheon was decorated with red and white chrysanthemums and pumpkin place cards. About 30 Seniors and Juniors and their guests sat down to a fried chicken dinner with all the trimmings. Ice Cream and cake were served, and then the party adjourned to the gym, where everyone danced and played games.

A chicken-spaghetti dinner will be sponsored by the Kiln Altar Society next Saturday night at Glass' Restaurant at 7:00. The dinners, at fifty cents a plate, will be cooked and served by the members of the Altar Society. Proceeds from this, and from the rummage sale held last weekend, will go toward a grotto to be erected in the church yard, at Kiln by the Altar Society.

C. J. Mauffray Sr. suffered a broken leg when a cement culvert fell on him in Bay St. Louis last Monday. Mr. Mauffray was taken to the Kings Daughters hospital and then to Hotel Dieu in New Orleans.

Father Fidelis is still at the Holy Name of Jesus hospital in Gadsden, Alabama. He is suffering from a shoulder injury and may have to undergo an operation. It is uncertain when he will be able to return to Kiln.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bolian and Miss Ann Ginn, all teachers at the Kiln School, visited their families last weekend in Brookhaven and Tyrtown, respectively.

The home economics department at Kiln school is quite proud of a new Singer electric sewing machine that came in last week.

Ed Harriel's mother has been moved to Foundation hospital in New Orleans for treatment. She has been ill for some time.

Miss Lucia Metzler, student at St. Joseph Academy, spent Sunday at the home of her parents.

TO ERECT FLAG POLE

Ed Harriel, principal of the Logtown school, reports that all parts of the flag pole for the school have now been received and will soon be assembled. When the pole is erected, appropriate flag-raising ceremonies will be held.

ject will be reported; these figures, together with a statement of finance, will be released for publication.

This large attendance at the festival was achieved by the splendid work of Mrs. Fred Holcomb, chairman of the ticket sales.

The cooperation of every P-T. A. member and of the townspeople contributed to making the Halloween Carnival such an outstanding success.

Fire Destroys Old Boardman Home

By JAY METZ

Another landmark has disappeared from the scene; this time in Pearlinton, when a fire of unknown origin destroyed the old Boardman home. With no volunteer fire fighting unit, and no fire fighting equipment within calling distance, the fire rapidly reduced the home to ruins. The only salvation was that the beautiful old oak trees which lined the road and surrounded the home were only slightly damaged by the fire.

The only occupant at the time of the fire was Mr. Ferguson, the caretaker and part owner, who left the burning building without injury. An interesting twist is the fact that Mr. Ferguson was saved through the actions of a cat. It is reported that he was awakened in the night by his cat scratching him on the face to warn him of the impending danger. Mr. Ferguson was unable to save any of his possessions.

Demonstration Council Elects Officers

The local Home Demonstration Club was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the County Home Demonstration Council at the school house. The purpose of the meeting was to elect new council officers for the coming year, to plan the future programs and to appoint necessary committees for the coming year.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Madge Allred, the county Home Demonstration Agent. New officers elected were Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, president; Mrs. Ike Bennett, vice president; and Mrs. Karl Craft, secretary-treasurer.

Logtown P-T. A. Party Is Success

There hasn't been a bigger nor better Halloween costume party than the one held in the Logtown schoolhouse this past Friday evening. The entire program, from start to finish, showed that the P-T. A. group who were in charge had done an excellent job. Proof of this was shown in the faces of the youngsters and oldsters alike.

Upon arrival, each person was greeted at the door by a witch and a ghost, after which they were ushered into the dimly-lit orange and black decorated auditorium where skeletons and black cats looked on. Entertainment included games for the young and the old, a pie eating contest, a treasure hunt for the high school group, balloon blowing, a marshmallow roast for the little tots, and a visit to the fortune teller.

Contributions and donations permitted a fitting climax to the party, with refreshments consisting of hot dogs, sandwiches, soda pop, cookies, and apples. Mrs. Forrest Summers conducted the games and kept the party moving at a hilarious pace; Mrs. De Boer was in charge of decorations, and did an excellent job; while many of the ladies assisted in preparation and serving of the refreshments.

The president of the local P-T. A. unit wishes to extend her thanks to all those who contributed either their services or material goods or both. It was their effort and co-operation, she says, that made the party the success that it was.

Resident's Father Dies In Meridian

Mrs. Walter Gagnon's father, Christian P. Beckman, died suddenly of a heart attack in Meridian, Mississippi, October 25.

Mr. Beckman, 63 years old, was a native of New Orleans but had been a resident of Meridian for the past 14 years.

Funeral services were held in the funeral home of Jacob Schoen and Son in New Orleans Friday afternoon, October 27, with interment in Greenwood Cemetery in New Orleans.

Mr. Beckman was survived by his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Faust Beckman, his daughters, Mrs. Gagnon, and the Misses Cleona, Barbara, Edith and Phyllis Beckman, a sister, Mrs. J. Siphott, and a brother, George Beckman.

Following the funeral services, Mrs. Beckman and her daughters came to Logtown where they were guests of the Gagnons over the weekend.

WCS HOLDS ALL DAY MEET

The Logtown Methodist chapter of the Womens Society of Christian Service held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Lamar Otis October 22. This meeting, an all day session, had as its theme the Methodist "Week of Prayer and Self-Denial".

Those who attended, other than the hostess, were Mrs. D. R. Weston, Mrs. Ike Bennett, Mrs. Harry Baxter, Mrs. Roy Baxter, Mrs. C. W. Fountain, Sr., Miss Annie Summers, Miss Minnie Otis and the Reverend W. B. Jones. A picnic lunch was served.

Mrs. Frances Casanova and her son, Joseph, who was accompanied by his wife and their children spent a day last week here from their home in New Orleans visiting with many of their friends.

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club is holding a two-day session at the Yacht Club. Much of the time yesterday and today is being devoted to teaching and demonstrating proper flower arrangements.

Observe Golden Wedding

The celebration of the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hoover of Napoleon was attended by many of the local residents last Sunday. The highlight of the day's celebration was the re-enactment of the wedding ceremony.

A guest of Mrs. Wilkinson over the weekend was a daughter, Mrs. J. Mastria.

CLERMONT HARBOR NEWS

MRS. J. G. TREUTEL, Reporter

Have you any news? If you do I would appreciate it immensely if you would jot it down on a piece of paper and drop it in the little box in the post office. Thanks a lot. Everyone likes to read about his neighbor and the Echo likes to print news about you.

Civic League Continues Street Work

The Clermont Harbor Civic League held its regular monthly meeting in the school Saturday, October 28.

Since it was the last meeting of this fiscal year, the attendance was not what it might have been. It is hoped at the next meeting in March, that many will be there. Refreshments will be served by a committee designated for this purpose.

It was further decided to keep working on the streets which are in need of attention, not only for the residents, but visitors as well. Several new members were added to the membership.

The National Home Demonstration Council met in Biloxi, October 19 through the 19. Hostess to the National event were the Mississippi Home Demonstration Council and Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service. More than 3,000 women from 33 states attended.

Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, delegate from Hancock County, Mrs. Harvard Burleigh vice-president of the Clermont Harbor Home Demonstration Club, and Miss Madge Allred attended the official opening Monday in the Hurricane Room of the Buena Vista Hotel. Hosts' states were Alabama, Arkansas and Louisiana.

On Wednesday, October 18, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, Mrs. A. G. Dantagnan and Mrs. Harvard Burleigh were present for the day, and enjoyed the talk by Clayton Rand of Gulfport on his recent trip to Europe, and "This Combustible Earth". The group attended the shrimp jamboree Wednesday night.

Mrs. Charles Schwartz, Sr., and Mrs. Charles Schwartz, Jr., entertained the Clermont Harbor School children Tuesday afternoon with a Halloween party in the school auditorium.

The auditorium was decorated with black cats, Jack-O-Lanterns, witches and a skeleton. Each child was given a Halloween hat and horn or whistle.

Refreshments of cake, punch, candy and apples were served.

Mrs. S. J. Ingram and Mrs. H. Mazarakis assisted in serving.

Mrs. Fred Nelson returned recently from a two week motor trip with Mr. and Mrs. William Painter. The three visited several parts of Texas, and Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Arnold and family had as their guests this past weekend Dorothy Dupuy, Phyllis Rutland and Mrs. L. D. Broome.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Saba and family spent the past weekend at their summer home on the harbor.

Smiths To Observe Golden Jubilee

BY SENIOR CLASS OF ST. ROSE DE LIMA

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Bay St. Louis, will observe their Golden Jubilee, Saturday, November 4. A mass will be celebrated in thanksgiving by Rev. Peter Boeding, S. V. D., in St. Rose de Lima Church at 8:00 o'clock.

THE LIVING ROSARY

Sunday night, October 29, the students of St. Rose presented the Living Rosary. The children assembled in the school auditorium where the assigned places were taken, and lighted vigil lights of various colors were given each child.

A song was being sung they crossed the road to the church. They filed in through the side aisles and stood in their places forming a complete rosary. After the "Blessed Sacrament" was exposed and the exposition hymn sung, the Rosary was started. Each child prayed a Hail Mary which was completed by the congregation. Altar boys represented the Our Fathers. The entire rosary of 5 decades was said. All the lights in the church were turned off, and the flickering of the many colored lights presented a beautiful sight. After the completion of the rosary each child offered his light to the Blessed Mother; they were arranged on a stand before Her altar.

After Benediction was given, the

Pvt. Christopher Laneaux received his indoctrination training at the Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. In the basic training at Lackland he received a well rounded military preparatory schooling. He is now well on his way to a career in the Air Force.

Sportsmen, Woods Owners Share Interest In Forestry

Well managed forestland supports game animals and birds and yields regular cash crops of wood products at the same time.

The white man's two most effective tools in building America were the axe and the musket. Frontiersmen usually were loggers, frequently farmers and always hunters.

In this atomic age, where good living is neither dependent upon dexterity with an axe nor skill with a rifle, weekend hunters and Sunday sportsmen too often picture pioneer America as a nirrod's paradise where game of all kinds roamed in countless numbers through primeval forests—a pretty picture but usually untrue.

History relates many grim accounts of hard-pressed frontiersmen starving in the unspoiled wooded wilderness they sought to penetrate. The hard, cold, unromantic but completely scientific truth was and is that most game animals did not and cannot exist, let alone thrive in great numbers in deep forests.

Frontiersmen found game in the same habitats that hunters find it today—at the edges of forests and in clearings where food is plentiful. Game animals seek shelter from weather or enemies inside dense forests but they feed along the edges where they can browse on sprouts and seedlings or graze in open meadows or marshes. Big thick stands of mature trees provide little food for game animals like deer. Sportsmen interested in protecting and perpetuating an adequate game supply can count foresters and timber owners among their best friends. In forest fires, 90 per cent of which are man-caused and preventable, sportsmen and woods owners have a common enemy.

Every woods fire takes its toll in bird and animal life. Some perish in the path of flames, others escape only to starve later in the charred waste that is fire's wake. That's why sportsmen in every section of the United States are playing leading roles in forest fire prevention programs such as Keep America Green.

Timber and game are crops. Both can be harvested, both replenish themselves and both, for best results, require scientific management and protection from enemies and fire. More trees for America also means more game for Americans.

REMEMBER?

In Flanders' fields poppies blow Between the crosses, row on row, That mark the place: and in the sky The larks still bravely singing fly, Scarce heard amidst the guns below.

We are the dead Short days ago we lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved and now we lie In Flanders Field. Take up our quarrel with the foe, To you from falling hands we throw The Torch—be yours to hold it high; If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep, though poppies grow In Flanders Field.

U. N. DAY PROGRAM

The U. H. A. Club sponsored a program October 24, which was U. N. Day. The program was as follows: Song: America; Scripture: Ruby Barabino; Prayer: Ollie Mae Lewis; Duet: the Narrington Sisters; U. N. Day explained, Carolyn Patterson; Musical solo: Alphonse Payade; Introduction of the guest speaker, by Raycielle Favre. The guest speaker was Mr. Young. The song, Faith of Our Fathers, brought the program to an end.

The following students achieved all A's or B's for the first six weeks: all B's: pre-primer: Cecile Laneaux, Gail Smith and Robert Venture; first grade: Joyce Darnborough, William Venture and Albert Mullins; second grade: Zettie Williams; third grade: Charles Smith, Arthur Williams and Carol Sims; fourth grade: Ruth Wilkerson and Elois Payade; fifth grade: Herbert Daniels, Carol Curry, Mary Alice Johnson, Romalee Laneaux and Yvonne Sauter; seventh grade: Osaac Darnborough; ninth grade: Arline Hall and Ora Lee Williamson; tenth grade: Alphonse Payade, Daniel Laneaux, Mary Ellen Holmes, Maud A. Sellers, Annie M. Davis and Imelda Claggett; eleventh grade: Ethel Acker; twelfth grade: Annie H. James, Albertine Whavers, Peter B. Favre Jr., Viola Young and Ruby Barabino.

All A's were received by: pre-primer: Jessie Lee Terrell; primer: Virginia Mitchell and Edwina Williams; first grade: Thomas Robinson and Richard Lee Smith; second grade: Dorothy Powell and Birdie Pope; sixth grade: Nolan Reed, Leroy Lyons, Doris Acker, Helen Robinson, Bettie James, Marcella Rosemond and Iris Whavers; eighth grade: Maxine Robinson and Carolyn Patterson; twelfth grade: Ophelia Wilkerson and Mary Newkirk.

Secret Tax Conference

THE 81st CONGRESS, despite much constructive legislation, will probably be known as the congress which increased the workingman's taxes by as much as 20 per cent while refusing to tax the war profits of big corporations. The most important debate on this was not in public but in the closed-door session of the senate and house conferees where house members battled savagely to gain a few concessions for little taxpayers. One of the battles was Democratic Congressman John Dingell of Detroit who at one point demanded:

"While we are making all these concessions to upper-bracket taxpayers and war profiteers, we should at least repeal some of the excise taxes on working people."

"Instead of plugging loopholes that benefit the oil industry and stock-market speculators, you are making the loopholes bigger—and more of them." Dingell angrily chided the senators. "As long as you are in the mood to throw away money, why not make some concessions to the working girl and man with four or five kids?"

One of the battles was Democratic Congressman John Dingell of Detroit who at one point demanded:

"That argument doesn't hold water," hit back Dingell. "The object of this amendment is not to hurt women of small incomes, but to compel the reporting in income returns of about a billion dollars a year in dividends that escape taxation. Failure to report these dividends is a violation of the law."

"Furthermore, despite what you say, working people with wages under $500 a year sometimes are taxed. A Detroit auto worker may work only one week in a year, but a portion of that week's wages is nonetheless withheld by the government."

GOP Rep. Dan Reed of Dunkirk, N. Y., sided with the senators, however, and the big-bracket taxpayers had a majority.

Note—Other senate tax conferees were Byrd of Virginia and Connally of Texas, Democrats; and Butler of Nebraska, Republican. Of them, only Senator Connally fought for the little taxpayer.

V.F.W. Combats Communism

Congressional witch-hunters who smear innocent people could take a lesson from an "American way" campaign which the Veterans of Foreign Wars has launched against communism. The V.F.W. campaign stresses "community service" to combat conditions on which foreign "isms" thrive—poverty, unemployment, illiteracy.

As the V.F.W.'s new commander, Charles C. Ralls of Seattle, explained to President Truman the other day: "The best way to kick communism is to get at the roots that propagate it. And those roots are chiefly poverty and ignorance. If we see it that there are no hungry children or impoverished families in this country, we don't have to worry too much about communism."

"That's the proper approach," agreed Truman. "Communism is a state of mind that is aggravated by bad economic conditions."

Halloween Becomes Class Work

The children of the third and fourth grades of the Webb School had something different in the line of school Halloween celebrations. Halloween fun was made a part of the regular school program last Friday.

For a reading lesson the two classes studied the pumpkin and its Halloween significance and the receipt for making pumpkin pies. Later in the day the girls, under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Pauline Russ, baked several pumpkin pies.

The children, as part of their arithmetic class, purchased the materials for the pies and figured their cost. The boys made Jack-o'-lanterns, baskets, and paper hats for the party.

Part of the pumpkin seeds were planted so the class could raise their own pumpkins for the coming year; while other seeds were dried for use in the art class to make necklaces, using the seeds for beads.

Farm Bureau Federation To Meet In Jackson Wednesday, November 8

The 99th annual meeting of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation opens at the Hotel Heidelberg in Jackson, Mississippi, November 8 for a three-day session, according to Boswell Stevens, Macon, President of the organization.

Highlighting the three-day meeting are addresses by Hon. John C. Stennis, U. S. Senator, Roger Fleming, Washington, Secretary-Treasurer of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Mrs. Haven Smith, Chappell, Nebraska. Pre-convention activities begin on Tuesday, November 7, as the Resolutions Committee meets to outline the program of work for the organization for the ensuing year.

A stockholders' meeting of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation Holding Corporation, C. D. Maddox, West, President, and a similar meeting of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Investment Corporation, J. W. Taylor, Sunflower, President, will be held on the afternoon of November 8.

Simultaneous meetings of the Farm Bureau insurance agents and Farm Bureau women's conference will begin at 2:00 p.m. on the same day. The women's conference will feature a cotton dress revue. Home Demonstration Club members will model street dresses, suits, and evening dresses of their own construction in cotton fabrics and styles suitable for fall and winter apparel. Women voting delegates from the various county Farm Bureaus will nominate a woman to the Mississippi Farm Bureau Board of Directors and name delegates to attend the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The Rural Youth Talk Meet contests will be held following the cotton dress revue. At 3:00 p.m. on Wednesday, November 8, an open session of the Resolutions Committee will be held. The first social feature of the convention will be held at 5:00 p.m., when all who have registered will assemble in the Victory Foyer for a social hour.

TENNIS SPEAKS
The first general assembly opens at 7:00 p.m. on the night of November 7 and will feature an address, "Christianity vs Communism," by the Rev. J. W. Stanway, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Macon, Mississippi, and an address by Hon. John C. Stennis, U. S. Senator. Hon. Allen C. Thompson, Mayor of the City of Jackson, will give the welcome address, and Major J. H. Davis, State College, will sing "On the Road to Mandalay."

A service memorializing Ransom E. Aldrich and the other members of the Official Farm Bureau family who have died during the year will be held during this session, and a life-sized hand-painted oil photograph of Mr. Aldrich will be unveiled. The portrait will be presented to the Mississippi Farm Bureau by the Board of Directors and County Farm Bureaus.

Following the general session, C. M. Chaffee, Assistant A-H Director State College, will be in charge of the square dance contests, in which winning teams from the various counties will participate.

AFBF REPRESENTATIVE SPEAKS

Thursday morning's session will open with a progress report by D. H. Echols, Director of Organization, the annual message of Boswell Stevens, President, and the report on the various phases of Farm Bureau services. This session will feature Mrs. Haven Smith, President of the Associated Women, Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, and Roger Fleming, Secretary-Treasurer of the American Farm Bureau Federation. C. L. McNeill will be in charge of the music throughout the convention.

Aerial War Waged Against Insects

In many sections of the United States insects and tree diseases have supplanted fire as Forest Enemy Number One. To combat this threat, private forestland owners, cooperating with state and federal agencies, use airplanes and helicopters to spray DDT over infested areas. Bugs and disease make heaviest inroads in stands of over-ripe trees.

Sisters Observe 300th Year

The Sisters of St. Joseph celebrated their 300th anniversary Saturday, October 28.

The boarding students sang Solemn High Mass in the Academy Chapel; Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. J. Gmelch was the celebrant.

Mother Antheima, Mother Anne Xavier and Mother Evelyn, all of St. Joseph Academy in New Orleans and the boards and faculty of St. Joseph Academy, Bay St. Louis, attended.

The altar was decorated with gold candles holders with lighted candles and gold vases with yellow and white chrysanthemums.

At the dinner served place cards and favors were arranged on the table which was centered with a bowl of mixed flowers.

Friday night, the entire S. J. A. student body participated in an entertainment. Congratulations were sung by the students of the lower grades; and sketches, depicting the history of the order of the Sisters of St. Joseph, were given.

Beautifying Yacht Club

The Beautification Committee of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, led by Mrs. Leo W. Seal and Mrs. Bea Hille, have completed work on widening the entrance of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. Work is now in progress to finish widening the drive way. Two large urns, a gift from Mrs. R. L. Camors, have been placed on either side of the entrance.

The large yellow and white birthday cake centered the table, and around the cake, ferns and daisies were arranged. Yellow and white packets filled with candy were given to the guests.

Those attending were Linda Eadney, Rosalie Wagner, Lyni Witter, Gail Banderet, Mary Alice Heitzmann, Jean Larroux, Barbara Ann Heitzmann, Gay Rhodes, Millie Piazza, Inez Favre, Delta Jacobi, Judy Heitzmann, "Doc" Rhodes and Marilyn's brothers, Bobby and Mike.

Miss Seal Honored By Mademoiselle Magazine

Miss Virginia Seal of Bay St. Louis is among the six coeds at Ole Miss chosen for MADemoiselle MAGAZINE'S College Board for 1950-51. Miss Seal is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Seal.

Members of the board are eligible for selection as one of the magazine's guest editors next June. Selection will be based on assignments carried out by the girls on their college campus. If Miss Seal wins the competition, she will go to New York to participate in the publication of the annual college issue of the magazine.

Scharffs Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Scharff celebrated their twenty-fourth wedding anniversary by going to Memphis to have dinner with Mr. Scharff's mother.

After dinner all of Mr. and Mrs. Scharff's relatives came to the home and a family reunion was held in honor of the occasion.

ENTER ART EXHIBITS

The Gulf Coast Art Exhibit opened Sunday, October 29, in the Gulfport Recreation Center. It will continue until Sunday, November 5.

Those entering exhibits from Bay St. Louis were Mesdames Gladys Bartlett Jones, Nellwyn Ducomb, E. M. Heath, Sr., Esther Reindl, Xaxier Camors, Marguerite Backman and Stella Ward and Misses Veronica Mohr and Betty Lee Mitchell.

Jurors for the exhibit were Charles Bein and Horace Russ. The pictures that will be shown were judged Saturday, October 28, at 10:00 a. m. Following the judging, the president and the board had lunch at the Town House in Gulfport.

Those from Bay St. Louis who attended the affair were Mrs. Gertrude Foley Saucier, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Russ and Charles Bein.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Favre announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Edith Favre, to Frank J. Davis. The wedding will take place November 25.

Charles Carter Jr. On Radio Program

Hattiesburg, Miss., (Special)—"as on the record" and the college kids have the joint jumping with jive and disc-jockey lingo. Fifteen Mississippi Southern students, members of a radio class, have taken over a forty-five minute disc jockey program at one of the local radio stations and are making the grade.

While supervised by members of the college's Speech Arts division, the program is not college-sponsored and the "Off The Record" program gives the budding radio announcers, script writers, and engineers a chance to use their initiative in creating their own show.

Miss Jane Magruder, speech instructor and chief adviser for the program, says their plans include the use of live talent in the future. College barbershop quartets and others musically inclined will be given the chance to air their talents.

Students taking part in the production of the four-night-a-week program are Jim Allen of Long Beach, Schuyler Bissell of Laurel, Dalton Burch of McComb, Janis Bonay of Vicksburg, Charles Carter of Bay St. Louis.

Virginia Chafin of Doloroso, Dean Griffin of East St. Louis, Ill., Pete Krohn of Biloxi, Velma Myers of Brookhaven, Harold Nowell of Halls, Tenn., Joel McCaa of Chicora, Richard Bass of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Thad Harper, Donny Hue, Johnson, and Leon Pringle, all of Hattiesburg.

Ronnie Russell Observes Sixth Birthday Tuesday

Ronnie Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan M. Russell, Jr., celebrated his sixth birthday Tuesday, October 31.

Halloween was the theme of the party. The group played games and Catherine Alliston, Chuck Breath, and Jimmy Yates were the lucky prize winners.

Those attending were Sue and Chuck Breath, Jimmy and Michael Yates, Eagen and Sue Carroll, Gregory Necaise, Mike Squires, Woody and Catherine Alliston, Buddy and Johnny Carver and Ronnie's little sister, Dale.

Bay Hi Band Auxiliary Plans General Card Party

The Bay High School Band Auxiliary is planning a general card party for the night of November 9, at 7:30 at the Teen Age Center. Bridge, Canasta, etc., will be played.

Baby sitters will be on hand to look after babies and small children. The admission is $1.00 and refreshments will be served by the auxiliary. The proceeds from the party will be used toward purchasing jackets for the band. Everyone is invited.

S S C Chalks Up Third Win

Displaying a dazzling first-half offensive and a strong defense throughout the game, St. Stanislaus chalked up their third win of the season at the expense of the McGill Wildcats of Mobile, Alabama. The score was 25 to 6.

The McGill boys were hardly in the game except for the third quarter when they recovered a fumble on the Rock twelve yard line and made their only score; the Wildcats were held in check by the Stanislaus line and alert secondary. The Rocks intercepted three Wildcats passes.

The Rock-A-Chaws scoring came early in the game. After kicking off to McGill and then forcing them to punt, Jerry Rooney went through right tackle for a spectacular 55 yard touchdown jaunt. Rooney passed to Jerry Lytle for the extra point, but the pass fell incomplete.

After kicking off to the Wildcats, the Rocks again got the ball on downs. Moving down the field in five plays, the Rocks scored again on a pass from quarterback Jimmy Holmes to end Don Mathis. This time, Rooney's kick for the extra point was good and the score read 13 to 0 at the end of the first period.

In the second quarter the Rock-A-Chaws scored twice. The first time on a pitch out to Jerry Rooney who scampered 48 yards around right end for his ninth TD of the season. A little later in the second period, Billy Huvvar intercepted a Wildcat pass on the McGill 45 and ran it back to the 18 yard line. Fullback

"Hancock County Can Be A Great Livestock Area," F. Hurst Tells Association

"Hancock County can be made one of the great livestock areas of the United States," Fred Hurst, Information Director for the Farm Credit Administration in New Orleans, told the members of the Hancock County Livestock Association Friday morning.

OUTLOOK IS GOOD

Hurst discussed livestock raising and its problems, with emphasis on this area, at the informal meeting. He said that the long time outlook for cattle raising is good because of the recent increases in population and the fact that people have become conscious of the need of large quantities of meat and milk in their diet.

There is a definite trend to the areas east of the Mississippi in cattle raising, he added. A few years ago more than 70% of the beef raised in this country was raised in the West. According to Hurst, if the present trend continues the percentage of beef raised in this area might double.

Raise Cattle Economically

The big problem of the farmer here is to raise cattle economically. Hurst said. He also said that the solution is right here. It is good pastures, and there seem to be plenty here in Hancock County. A point brought out by Hurst was that good pastures will help eradicate animal disease, much of which is due to improper diet. The meeting was held in the new REA Building. Miss Loyett

C of C Looking For 'Outstanding Man'

The Mississippi State Junior Chamber of Commerce is now seeking nominations for the title of "Mississippi's Outstanding Young Man of 1950," according to Emmett Reese, Lexington, chairman of this year's project.

Nomination blanks are being mailed to business and civic leaders in all parts of the state. Deadline for receiving nominations is midnight December 17, 1950. A panel of judges made up of past State Presidents who are over the age of 36 will select the recipient of this annual award and announcement will be made at a statewide banquet to be held in Jackson on January 27th.

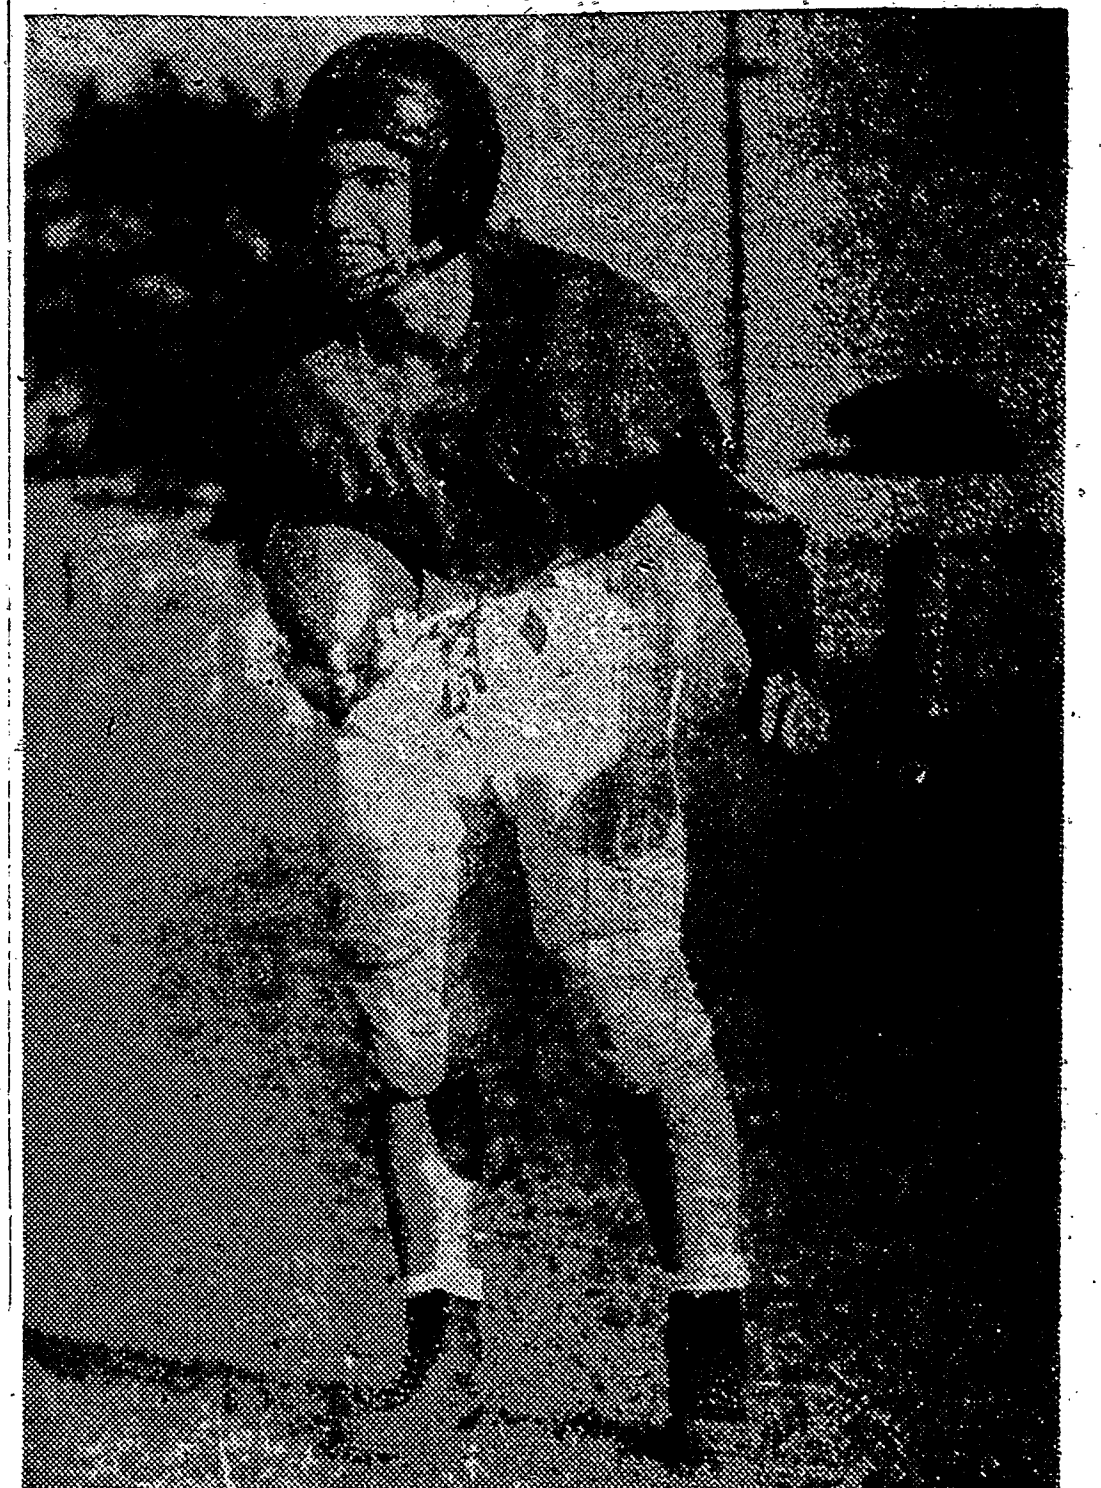

Any young man in the state between the ages of 21 and 36 is eligible for nomination. The award will be conferred for achievements, leadership and service to community during the calendar year of 1950. Last year 23 nominations were received from all parts of the state.

"Every community in the state has at least one outstanding young man," according to Chairman Reese, "and the purpose of this program is to provide an opportunity for each community to recognize its outstanding young man by nominating him for the state award."

He also stated that nomination in itself is recognition of service to the community and that recognition tends to encourage others, both young and older, to assume positions of responsibility and leadership in the community.

Nomination blanks may be secured by writing Mississippi Jaycees P. O. Box 1201, Jackson.

HALFBACK BOBBY FALGOUT ....

Though only a sophomore Bobby Falgout has given a fine account of himself on the gridiron. Bobby started two games this year and caught two touchdown passes for the Rocks. With two full years ahead of him, this 14 year old halfback bears close watching.

Hostess At Exhibit

Mrs. Gladys Jones and students from the Blue Bottle Art Studio were hostesses at the Gulf Coast Art Exhibit in Gulfport, Tuesday, afternoon, October 31.

Those present were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Marguerite Backman, Mrs. Esther Reindl, Mrs. Vickie Hill, Mrs. Irene Moran, and Mrs. Theo Schroth who came from New Orleans in the afternoon to join the group.

A BOY FOR LAFONTAINES

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lafontaine, Bay St. Louis, announce the birth of a son at the Kings Daughters Hospital, Monday, October 30. The baby weighed 7 lbs. and 14 oz's.

Webb, Coast Electric's Home Electro-economist, and Miss Madge Allred, Hancock County Home Demonstrator, served refreshments.

Most people know it's bad luck to be careless with fire in the woods. But sometimes they forget. Then the fire demon has his day. He destroys standing timber. He damages growing trees. He kills seedling trees that would be tomorrow's wood supply. Every-one loses but the fire demon.

Don't bring bad luck to your neighbors—your community—your pocketbook. Remember! It's bad luck to be careless with fire in the woods.

Extension Workers To Meet Nov. 6-8

State College, Miss.—Outstanding agricultural leaders from throughout the nation will address the Annual Extension Worker's Conference, Jackson, November 6-8, according to L. I. Jones, director, Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service.

Besides featuring group meetings of the County Agents' Association and the Home Demonstration Agents' Association, the convention is designed to present an evaluation of the year's progress in Extension work, the director declared.

However, all will not work for the delegates, a buffet supper is scheduled Sunday night, there will be an Episcopalian Sigma Phi Banquet Monday night, Tuesday night's program includes a banquet at the Heidelberg Victory Room which features a noted humorist, in addition to recognition of outstanding county and home demonstration agents by their associations.

Out of state visitors appearing on the programs are: J. M. Burch, director, Missouri Agricultural Extension Service, discussing "Extension's Responsibility to Balance Farming." Paul Miller, Extension rural sociologist, Michigan State College, will tell how Extension helps others to help themselves.

Workers will hear Gwynn Garnett, representative of Foods Division of Military government tell the Military, Ideological, Economic and propaganda aspects of the cold war.

The final day's activities will include talks by two outstanding Mississippi agriculturists; Boswell Stevens, president Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation, will speak on "The Farm Bureau in 1950," and J. Oliver Emmerich, editor and publisher, McComb, will give some observations of a former Extension worker.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bolian are two of Kiln school's new teachers from upstate. 27-year old Mr. Bolian is a native of Summit, Mississippi, and a graduate of Mississippi Southern College in Hattiesburg. He received his B. S. degree in mathematics and education there in the spring of this year.

He is at present teaching high school math in the Kiln school. This is his fourth year of teaching; prior to that, he was ground crew member in the Army Air Corps, and during the war covered the United States, England, France Belgium and Luxembourg. Mr. Bolian's hobby is fishing, and he says he finds Kiln one of the best places to carry on this sport.

Blond, blue-eyed Mrs. Bolian, from Brookhaven, teaches fifth grade at Kiln. She has taught for the past two years, and plans to obtain her BS degree in elementary education at Mississippi Southern college this summer. So far, she has completed three and a half years of college work toward that degree. Last year she taught fifth grade in Lincoln county.

The 21 year old teacher is interested in sports, but her favorite hobbies, she says, are crocheting and playing canasta.

The Boliens celebrated their first wedding anniversary this month.

GUEST OF CAZAUBONS

State Contest For Farmers

A contest to select one farmer from Mississippi, who will compete in a national contest for a $500 prize has been announced by A. B. Adams, President of the Mississippi Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

The cash award will be presented to the speaker representing the average-to-small farmers and ranchers of America at the 1951 NASC convention at Oklahoma City, February 20, 21, and 22, on the subject "What My Soil Conservation District Has Done for Me."

Mr. Adams explained that the Mississippi Association will select one entry to represent this state at the national meeting.

Speeches should be typewritten and not exceed twenty minutes in speaking time (approximately 2,500 words). They must be sent to A. B. Adams, Box 575, Clarksdale, by December 1, 1950.

The National Association emphasizes that facts, rather than grammar or rhetoric will govern the selection of the winner.

The $500, offered by the Dow Chemical Company, will be presented to the winner at the conclusion of his speech at the Oklahoma City convention.

A Man's Heart

It is a man's normal desire to provide for his dependents and strive to improve the lot of his children. This paternal instinct to protect one's own provides the urge that pushes a man on to make the most of his brief existence. It fires a man's ambition to get along, to build himself above himself. It spurs him to increase his earnings, to save money, build a home, carry life insurance, create an estate and make a will. This inspiring force makes the family the center of gravity in our form of society. It not only influences the lives of the living but continues to function when a man's labors are over.

A man's duties and responsibilities don't die with him. And it is often a man's desire and determination to fulfill his wishes and extend his usefulness beyond the time he ceased to function.

That is why so many men make plans for the future, why they make wills and use the facilities of banks and their trust departments to carry out their hopes and dreams. It is as necessary to protect one's estate as it is to protect one's dependents.

No man is altogether wise who would strive and save through the years and then fail to so arrange his affairs that what he leaves behind is not dissipated. For years now the trust department of your bank has helped friends and customers carry out their wishes with respect to their fortunes and their families. You can't take it with you, but through the trust department of this bank you can determine and be sure that what you leave to others will be secure and will be used for the purposes you intend.

For the convenience of our customers our Trust Department offices are now located on the second floor of the Hancock Bank Building. Out of our experience in handling estates we may be of some service to you and yours. We would be pleased to consult with you and your legal adviser. Use the facilities of this bank for security and protection.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McDonald of Hattiesburg, Miss., were recent visitors to their relatives and friends in the Pass.

Mrs. Alma Hayden and her son, Robert, returned recently from Memphis, Tennessee, where they visited Mrs. Hayden's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Apfel, and their two little girls, Margaret and Kathleen.

Mr. Apfel is associated with the Sperry Gyroscope Company in Memphis.

The Apfel family has resided in Memphis for the past year following Mr. Apfel's transfer from the New Orleans office.

Following a record of four straight wins the St. Joseph's Catholic School boys suffered first defeat of the season last Thursday night when the Kiln basketball team broke their winning streak with a score of 35-38.

The Kiln swept a double-header with the girls taking the lead from the beginning of the game and never losing it. The score 32-15.

High scorer for St. Joseph School was E. Garriga with nine points. M. L. Necaise led the Kiln sextet to victory, scoring 19 points, followed by M. Haas, with ten points.

W. Necaise was the high scorer for the Kiln boys, scoring 14 points followed by O. Moran with 10. The Kiln boys also jumped out at the start of the game and managed to keep ahead through the entire contest.

The newly inaugurated semi-monthly luncheon series was started last week at the Pass Christian Yacht Club with Mrs. Philip S. Pugh, hostess.

There were thirty-seven guests present for the luncheon, which was followed by Bridge and Canasta.

The luncheons will be held every other Wednesday at the club at 12:30 P. M.

Members and guests must make advance reservations by telephoning the club manager. No one will be allowed to attend without having a reservation.

Last week's luncheon motif was carried out in the Halloween decorations with cut Blooms predominating on each table.

Mrs. Shirley Northrop tendered her resignation as vice-president of the league due to the fact that she has moved from the Pass and is presently residing in Gulfport.

Upon acceptance of Mrs. Northrop's resignation, Mrs. Hazel Adam Woods was unanimously elected league vice-president. Mrs. Woods is a charter and active member of the League, a life long resident of Pass Christian, and is employed as a clerk in the local Post Office.

The Women's Civic League, acting upon a suggestion of the Parent-Teachers Association, voted to establish a "Paper and Pencil Bank" for the lower six grades in the public school. The bank will contain paper and pencils which the students may borrow and later repay. This banking system has proved successful in many of the schools in the Northern and Eastern parts of the country, and the P.T.A. and League members feel certain that it will prove useful at the public school here in Pass Christian.

The next meeting of the League has been called for November 7 at the Miramar, and all women interested in the welfare of their city are invited to attend.

A. G. Hancock, of 816 West Beach Boulevard suffered a heart attack last Friday night and was taken to the Memorial hospital at Gulfport. Mr. Hancock was able to return home Tuesday.

Dr. C. D. Taylor, Jr., President of the Pass Christian Rotary Club has issued a plea to the citizens of Pass Christian who are interested in aiding the Martin infants, requesting that any and all aid be given through the Rotary Club as a clearing house, in order that duplications of the necessities needed by these surviving three children of the quads may be avoided. Dr. Taylor said a washing machine was a much needed item.

Seek To Renew Alumni Reunion

Miss Mary Margaret Johnson is starting a move, with the co-operation of the Pass Christian public school teachers and board, to renew the annual Alumni celebrations. Each year the alumni of the Pass Christian school honors the graduating class with an elaborate banquet near the end of the school year. This custom, like many other American customs, was, of necessity, abandoned during World War II. The last banquet being held in 1941.

One of the local teachers has stated that it required a great deal of time and effort to reorganize the alumni into an active organization, and Miss Johnson is requesting cooperation of graduates and the teaching staff to help in any way possible to make the renewal of this custom successful.

Delemos - January Nuptials Celebrated

LT. AND MRS. DELEMOS.

Miss Mary M. January, daughter of John A. January and the late Mrs. January of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Lieutenant Frederick P. Delemos, Jr., in a double ring ceremony at Chapel One of Keesler Air Force Base Sunday, October 22, at 2:30 p. m.

Chaplain Charles F. Williams of Keesler performed the ceremony with 30 friends and relatives of the bride and groom in attendance. The altar was decorated with assorted mums set off by candlelight.

The bride was given away by her father, and Miss Shirley Mae January, sister of the bride served as maid of honor. Captain Albert S. Martin of Keesler served as best man for the groom.

The bride chose a navy blue dress of imported Italian lace with black accessories. She wore a pale pink veil with an off-the-face crown decorated with imported Orange blossoms covering the brim. She wore a corsage of orchids.

The maid of honor chose a rose pink taffeta dress with white accessories and wore a large catterpillar orchid.

The groom, the son of Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Frederick P. Delemos, Sr. of Youngstown, Ohio, is a graduate of Tennessee Military Institute of Nashville, Tennessee; he is presently attending the Air Forces Radar School at Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi.

A reception followed the ceremony at Keesler Air Force Base Officer's Club with all the friends and relatives witnessing the ceremony attending.

The couple will leave Keesler November 6, when Lt. Delemos completes Radar School, and visit in Youngstown, Ohio, prior to their new station.

MANAGING WINTER PASTURES

By HOWARD SIMMONS

Bogging oats do more damage than grazing in many fields. In grazing oats do one of two things either give enough area so that over-grazing will not be done or turn livestock in and move them after they have their full of oats.

Stay off Dallas grass areas during the wet weather, it bogs easily. Rye grass will furnish grazing all winter if it is not over-grazed or bogged.

It is good management to keep livestock off wet boggy pastures. Watch for second growth sorghum in grazing fields, try these fields out before you graze them. Turn a few head of stock in before you turn the main herd in. If there is prussic acid present, the first few head turned in will let you know it.

Watch for bloat in clover fields. On many acres the ladino clover has choked down the fescue and the livestock are getting too much clover and not enough grass.

Although there is no remedy for bloat, if the pasture is 50 percent grass and 50 percent clover you will have less bloat.

GARDENING

November is the time to plant your new asparagus bed. You can do this any time during November. The vegetable often lasts from 10 to 15 years. Plant it this fall and if you use crowns to start, you can begin heavy cutting in 1953. If you start from seed it takes three years to establish a cutting bed.

Now is the time to plan your next spring garden. Apply barnyard manure and plow it under. Drain low areas of the garden plot by ditching to prevent winter rains from standing over the vegetables or making pools in the garden.

them for compost piles and for mulching next year's vegetables. Other November jobs for the gardener are cleaning up all bean and tomato stalks, rolling wire, cleaning and storing all garden tools not in use, cleaning up and burning old grass and repairing the garden fence.

Med Loan Students Doing Outside Work

JACKSON, MISS.—Mississippi medical education loan recipients have worked in many hospitals and clinics during the summer of 1950. Although these students have worked in other places of employment, such as business firms, three out of four reporting summer employment have served in hospitals or other facilities connected with medical care.

These men have worked in nine different states, although the largest number have served right here in Mississippi. Other States include: Alabama, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, Texas, New York, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia.

Types of employment have included work in hospital laboratories, medical libraries, state and county health departments, work with private physicians, state and community hospitals, boys' camps, industrial school, and public service of several kinds.

These students are part of the group who have received State medical education loans with which to enter or complete medical training. This State program was established by the 1946 Legislature for the purpose of obtaining more doctors for the rural areas. In accomplishing this purpose it is possible to assist deserving potential rural physicians of this State to become doctors.

LAKESHORE

Lakeshore Garden Club Holds Meet

Mrs. Malcom B. Green

Last Wednesday afternoon the Lakeshore Garden Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Lionel Borge. Those present were Mesdames Clarence Becker, Horace Russ, Ruth Miller, William Borge, George Montgomery and Charles Peterson.

The entrance prize, a potted plant, was won by Mrs. Borge.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson has been completed, and they will take occupancy in the near future.

Mrs. Lionel Borge has been spending all of her spare time at the bedside of her father, Mayor Garfield Lader, of Waveland, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hourbeight of Myrtle Grove Farm have as their guest Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nuglio of New Orleans. The Nuglios are building a home on Leopold avenue in Bay St. Louis. They plan to make this their permanent residence.

Malcom Green broke his hand while playing basketball with the Lakeshore Independent team at Gulfview school gymnasium Sunday, October 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Windingham, former residents of Lakeshore, recently purchased the McCane home and are remodeling and improving their property. They plan to make this their permanent residence, and have entered Fred Jr., and Matilda in Gulfview school.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lader have as their guests Mr. Lader's parrots, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lader.

Mrs. Ruth Miller entertained Miss Elsa Stein of New Orleans over the weekend.

Mrs. Horace Russ entertained the Azalea Literary Club of New Orleans Friday, October 27.

Miss Madge Allred, County Home Demonstration Agent, demonstrated the construction of reed serving trays at the monthly meeting of the Lakeshore Home Demonstration club held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Miller.

Those present were Mesdames Lionel Borge, Charles Peterson, Clarence Becker, Horace Russ, George Montgomery, William Borge and William Spence.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stoufflet of Baldwin Plantation left Sunday for a week's visit in New Orleans with their son, Herbert, and their daughters, Mrs. N. Saux and Mrs. J. Japen. From New Orleans they will go to Matthews, Louisiana, to spend a week with Mrs. Stoufflet's sister, Mrs. Paul Arabi.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Lafontaine of Gulfport and Lakeshore, was christened Russell Allen at St. Clare's Catholic church, Waveland, Saturday at 4:00 p.m. Rev. Father M. J. Costello officiated; godparents were Mrs. Howard Berthold and Gary Stoufflet of Lakeshore.

Following the religious service, there was a small family gathering at the home of the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Lafontaine, of Lakeshore.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Strickland and sons, Lonnie, Eugene and Edward, were the weekend guests of Mr. Strickland's mother, Mrs. Leander Villimill. Mr. Villimill is presently in South America; he will return to Lakeshore for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Archie Gordon Courage Jr., is stationed on the U. S. S. Electron. His wife and daughter, Merna Joy, are residing with her parents in New Orleans while he is in service.

The Lakeshore Civic association had a country dance Saturday, October 21. Among the out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Lucy Green of Michoud, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. Hillman Lader of Laurel and Mr. and Mrs.

Clyde Lader of New Orleans.

Warren Garcia, youngest son of Mrs. Viola Garcia, has passed his physical examination and will leave for his basic training in the near future.

The faculty of Gulfview school gave a Halloween dance Tuesday night in the new school gymnasium.

The proceeds will go toward the improvement of the lunchroom facilities. Music was furnished by the versatile 4X Ramblers; refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Garcia of Ocean Springs are painting their home in Lakeshore, getting ready to return to the old homestead.

The Lakeshore Baptist church will continue to hold the non-denominational meetings every Saturday and Sunday night at 7:30 with Sunday school every Sabbath at 10:00 a.m. Rev. Edwin P. Meschkat conducts the services.

Last Thursday, Leetown grammar school basketball team defeated the Gulfview girls and boys.

Lakeshore's Independent team was victorious over Clermont Harbor. Games are played every Sunday afternoon by the men in the new gymnasium. Everyone is invited to attend.

LEETOWN NEWS

MOTORISTS NOW TRAVELING OVER FAMED NATCHEZ TRACE

Indians who more than two centuries ago traveled along tortuous wilderness trails between Natchez and Nashville would no doubt get something of a surprise today were it possible for them to speed along the Natchez Trace Parkway being developed by the federal government.

Twentieth century travelers will by next summer be able to cover 63 miles of the road over which early pioneers made their way into the Southwest Territory back in 1798.

Actually only 22 miles of the parkway has been hard-surfaced to date. This section extends from Ridgeland on U. S. Highway 51 northeastward, touching Pearl River at two points. However, the National Park Service at present has projects totaling about $2,675,000 under construction in Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi. Forty-one additional miles in Mississippi will be completed by next June.

When completed eventually, the Trace will extend for 450 miles, following closely the original trails first made by wild animals, followed by Indians of various tribes in these areas of the South, and finally by explorers, pioneer settlers and soldiers.

By treaty with the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians, the United States acquired the right to develop the Natchez Trace into a wagon road and mail route in the early 1800's. But for many years the journey over the Trace remained a hard and perilous one—due not so much to the Red Man as to the blood-thirsty bandits who found easy picking on the wilderness trail. Lafayette knew its hardships, as did Meriwether Lewis, Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and many another well-known figure of history.

Development of the historic road into a Parkway, extending between Natchez and Nashville, was adopted as a project of the National Parkway Service in the 1930's.

The Parkway has been designed exclusively for pleasure travel and is unique in that no advertising signs or commercial developments are permitted within rights-of-way being acquired by the government for the project. Commercial trucks are not permitted to use the road.

Average width of the Parkway is 800 feet. The road being constructed by the Park Service follows closely the old trails which took advantage of the natural contour of the land.

The historic and scenic features of the area have been preserved by the builders and numerous picnic areas and nature trails have been placed along the route for the convenience of travelers.

Malcom Gardner, superintendent of the project with headquarters in Tupelo, voiced some uncertainty as to how the international situation might affect the present construction program.

Actual work on the project started back in 1937, but all work was halted by World War II. At that time 105 miles of grading and minor bridge work had been completed, including a section in the Ridgeland area. This latter section, Gardner said, was treated with a stabilization black topping which was not intended as a permanent surfacing. This rapidly deteriorated during the War years, as engineers expected, but has since been replaced with smooth hard-surfaced covering over which throngs of Sunday and holiday motorists are traveling today.

In addition to the section of road completed in Mississippi, the Park Service now has nearly 39 miles of Parkway road nearly ready for hard-surfacing in Alabama and Tennessee. A total of 108 miles of right-of-way in Mississippi have been acquired by the government.

At Ridgeland the Parkway is planning to construct a district headquarters which will include an office, shop, warehouse and storage space. A small museum and information station is also being established for the benefit of tourists.

The Parkway as seen today just east of Ridgeland. The road is now hard-surfaced for approximately 22 miles northeast of U.S. 51. Park Service officials state that 63 miles will be paved in Mississippi by next summer.

which in old French suggests its origin as a line of footprints or animal tracks.

These traces, or trails, the Park Service reports, "showed a marked tendency to follow watershed divides in an effort to avoid stream crossings and swamps, even though the distances were greater."

Joined together, these trails eventually became increasingly important after the coming of the white man, who used it in his military, political, and commercial activities while passing into the region of the Gulf of Mexico or from the Atlantic Seaboard. Later it became known as the Natchez Trace.

Some historians even believe that the route of the Natchez Trace was used by DeSoto who discovered the Mississippi River in 1542. Some day soon the modern automobile explorer will be able to traverse the route—four centuries after DeSoto's history-making trip.

Washington MERRY GO ROUND

BY DR. W. H. POLLEY

UNDER the new anti-Communist law, any newspaperman can be put in jail for publishing secret documents. Nevertheless, I am going to publish a confidential state department instruction which happens to be one of the most important issued in five years.

The secret memo is an instruction to American delegates at the current U.N. general assembly, and it states:

"The aim of this critical session is to lift GA (abbreviation for general assembly) out of the debating society class and make it an effective action agency when collective defense through SC (abbreviation for security council) is frustrated . . . to organize GA effectively to deter further aggression."

In those 38 words is summed up the most important reversal of American policy in years. In those 38 words is also spelled out the hopes for future peace in the world. It is a reversal because at San Francisco where the United Nations was founded in 1945, American delegates insisted that the new organization be dominated by the big powers on the security council. At that time we were just as strong for the veto as the Russians. So were the British and French. The veto was our joint and mutual baby.

Big vs Little Nations

At that time also, the smaller nations, led by dynamic, farsighted Foreign Minister Evatt of Australia, tried to curtail the veto; tried to increase the power of the general assembly.

New Zealand, Greece, Belgium, the Scandinavian countries all fought for this principle.

They knew what the veto meant. They realized that when the big powers sat down in the security council, they would be just as deadlocked as on the council of the old League of Nations.

However, the United States, at that time, sided with Russia, and the security council with its veto was made all-powerful compared with the democratic general assembly where majority ruled.

This is what the state department is trying to reverse in New York right now. For the American people saw what the U.N. could do when Russia was absent from the security council; also how stymied security council.

But believe it or not, the countries now dragging their feet are our best friends, the French and British. With far less to lose than we, they are proposing "constructive criticism" which actually has the effect of helping to pull the Russian chestnuts out of the fire.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

PLAN FIRESIDE HOBBIES NOW

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

As the evenings get nippy and the nights longer, most homemakers find time for a fireside craft—knitting, rug braiding, crocheting, quilting.

If you're still in the planning stage of what you are going to make this winter as you sit by the fire after supper as the children study, why not start a braided rug? Beautiful ones can be made from woolen garments dyed burlap feed sacks, cotton or linen materials. Wool is the best, however.

Only material of the same fiber should be used in a rug. Take care to eliminate those portions that are badly worn. Be sure the material is clean before you cut it into strips for rug making.

It may be wise for beginners to use only a few colors in a rug. After some experience, you will find you can combine many colors to produce delightful effects.

One of the most admired features of early handmade rugs are their lovely, soft, rich shades. Strong intense colors should be used with the greatest care, in small areas with a neutral color in the background to balance the brilliant hue.

Dye the materials with fast dyes. Follow the directions of a standard quality all-purpose dye to the letter and you will not be disappointed in the results.

If you're one who has always admired hand-made braided rugs, why not make one this winter? Instructions on how to do the actual braiding and sewing may be secured through the Home Agent's Office.

A house becomes a picture when framed by appropriate trees. Do you need to plant more trees to complete the frame for your house, or to remove misplaced trees and add others?

Spend some time in deciding on the location of trees around your home. They are a permanent part of the landscape, remember. Don't make the mistake made by so many of placing trees directly in front of the house where they screen the view and give the impression the owner is ashamed of his home.

Consider the future size of the tree and allow ample space for it to grow and develop properly. Choose the trees and plant them with the idea of informality and naturalness in the landscape.

Look out for telephone, light and power lines in placing the trees. Remember too, a tree should never have branches touching the house.

Don't overlook the use of fruit and nut trees in your landscape. They have so much beauty as strictly ornamental trees and add to the value of your home grounds by producing food for your family.
